
Pràctica Estructures de la informació:
Ordenació per Binsort

Joan Francesc Arbona Pérez

20 de juny de 2011

1 Proves

1.1 Primera prova:

Text d'entrada:

The First Roumanian American congregation is an Orthodox Jewish congregation that for more than years occupied a historic building pictured at Rivington Street on the Lower East Side of Manhattan, New York. Those who organized the congregation in were part of a wave of RomanianJewish immigrants who settled mostly in this precinct. The building had previously been a church, then a synagogue, and then a church again. It was transformed into a synagogue for a second time and extensively remodeled when the First Roumanian-American congregation purchased it in The synagogue's high ceiling, good acoustics, and seating for up to 1,800 people made it famous as the Cantor's Carnegie Hall. The congregation's membership was in the thousands in the 1940s, but by the early 2000s had declined to around 40 as Jews moved out of the Lower East Side. Though its building was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1998, the congregation was reluctant to accept outside assistance in maintaining it. In January 2006, the roof collapsed and the building was demolished two.

Text de sortida:

1 1998 1940s 2000s 2006 40 800 American Cantor's Carnegie East East First First Hall Historic In It January Jewish Jews Lower Lower Manhattan National New Orthodox Places Register Rivington RomanianJewish Roumanian Roumanian-American Side Side Street The The The The Those Though York a a a a a a accept acoustics again an and and and and around assistance as as at been building building building building but by ceiling church church collapsed congregation congregation congregation congregation congregation congregation's declined demolished early extensively famous for for for good had had high historic immigrants in in in in in in in into is it it it its listed made maintaining membership more mostly moved occupied of of of of of on on organized out outside part people pictured precinct previously purchased reluctant remodeled roof seating second settled synagogue synagogue synagogue's than that the the the the the the the the the then then this thousands time to to to transformed two up was was was was was wave were when who who years